"The Ottawa Spotlight"

(Weekly Review of National Affairs)
— By Spectator —

Ottawa, May 22nd.—The first session of the 10th Parliament has met in an atmosphere of deep concern over world affairs, but with that deep concern is the determination clearly voiced in the Speech from the Throne, "to share in the war effort of the allied powers to the utmost of our strength." The progress of the war in Europe is practically the sole topic of discussion at Ottawa and it is clearly from the speech from the Throne and from the general attitude of parliamentarians that issues not connected with the war will be put in a subordinate position in parliamentary debate. On the opening day, the Prime Minister asked for the cooperation of all parties in the great task lying ahead. "Government responsibility does not mean monopoly of government," said Mr. King. "Everyone can make a contribution and will be expected to do so fearlessly and to the best of his ability." The new leader of the Opposition, Mr. R. B. Hanson, promised wholehearted support. "I consider it my duty as leader of the Opposition to render to the cause of liberty and freedom the very best that is in me." This indicates the general line of debate in Parliament for this session. There is sure to be little or no party bickering. Where criticism will arise it will be from difference of opinion on the efficacy of the government's war measures.

The Opposition leader has already given notice that he and the other members of the Opposition will expect a great deal of information about Canada's war contribution effective in the Speech from the Throne. Parliament was promised that "You will be fully informed of Canada's action both in the military and economic fields."

The Speech from the Throne, except in a single case, mentioned in specific measures to be introduced by the government during the session. "You will be asked," the Speech said "to consider measures deemed essential for the prosecution of the war, and for the social and economic requirements of the country." Although Parliament would be mainly concerned with the war and the "measures essential to the achievement of ultimate victory," there would be some mention of the days that would follow the cessation of hostilities. The constitution would be amended to permit the government to introduce a measure of unemployment insurance "as a contribution to industrial stability in time of war and to social security and justice in time of peace." While this was the single measure of legislation specifically noted in the Speech from the Throne, the heavy task which has to be borne by this parliament was shown clearly in the words— "As you assume in these dark and difficult days the grave responsibility with which you have been entrusted by the Canadian people, may your resolution be sustained by the knowledge that it is the liberties of all free peoples that you are helping to preserve."

Parliament has settled down very rapidly to business. Just as there was little of the customary color and display at the opening of the session, there has been expedition in the tone of parliament from its first hour. There is no time for non-essentials at a time when the very foundations of the world seem fluid, when the armies of the allies are at death grips with when the frontiers of still more of the Germany in France and Belgium, small neutrals are hourly threatened and when even the massive current of public opinion in the United States is wheeling into new and more realistic channels. There is a general feeling of confidence here that parliament is going to put its shoulder to the wheel and muster its full energy behind it.

A Scottish born lawyer from Marquette, Manitoba, Mr. A. Glen, is the new speaker of the House of Commons following Hon. Pierre Casgrain, now a member of the Cabinet. There are a great many new faces on the floor of the House, and many well known faces are missing. Among the latter are of course, Mr. J. A. G. Brown, leader of the Conservative Party, who has now retired from the arena. Miss MacPhail, Mr. Cahan, Mr. White and many others. Many of these will be sincerely missed by their defeat in the last election is due to the unstable nature of political life. Others have taken their place, and will be making some in the tourist travel trade, and it is likely that a large influx of tourists to this southern Alberta will result later in the summer season as a result of this trip.

Comments On The April Wheat Situation

The price of wheat changed but little during the month. What is worthy of note, however, is the stream of wheat from the United States and Canada steadily flowing overseas. Canada alone shipped 21 million bushels during April, as compared with only 5 million bushels for the same month of April a year ago; and total world shipments being transported over the seas from all exporting countries were 49 million bushels for April as compared with 45 million during the month of April a year ago.

These large shipments teach an obvious lesson which is that the British Navy controls the world seas, and alone makes these exports possible during this time of war.

AMERICANS WILL TOUR SOUTHERN ALBERTA

A number of U. S. travel operators, travel bureau managers and motor club members will tour through southern Alberta sometime in June. This tour is being organized by the National Parks. This group will be made up of many distinguished tourists, and will be making some in the tourist travel trade, and it is likely that a large influx of tourists to this southern Alberta will result later in the summer season as a result of this trip.

CALL EXTENDED REV. STANLEY HUNT FROM STRATHMORE UNITED CHURCH

At the congregational meeting held at the close of the evening service on Sunday, May 19th, a unanimous call was extended Rev. Stanley Hunt of Crossfield, to accept the pastorate of the Strathmore charge.

A motion of appreciation of Mr. Gilbert's faithful and energetic services during his term in Strathmore was moved by Mayor T. S. Hughes and approved with hearty applause.

Owing to the necessary absence of Dr. Griffith Miss Jean McGregor acted as secretary for the evening.

REV. STANLEY HUNT, B. A. ACCEPTS CALL TO STRATHMORE

A wire from Mr. Hunt received Monday stated his acceptance of the call to the pastorate of the Strathmore charge. He will arrive to take charge the first Sunday in July.

EMPIRE SOVEREIGNS

Through the medium of the Alberta Division of the Red Cross, Mr. John Hrisook of Kitchikan, Alberta, has received a letter from his daughter and sister reading in French, Zup, Zup, of Kitchikan, Czechoslovakia.

Following the German invasion there has been no word from them and Mr. Hrisook appealed to the Spirit River Red Cross branch to endeavor to establish communication and relief.

The appeal was made in January. The letter received tells that both daughter and sister are well, and Mr. Hrisook is asked to write to them through the International Red Cross.

Location of relatives and friends in the war zone is an important service given by the Red Cross. It covers all that portion of Poland in German hands that provides a check for inquiry as to interned soldiers and refugees in Rumania, Hungary, Lithuania and other nations in which there are war fugitives and also prisoners of war in all the belligerent countries.

ONLY GOD CAN MAKE A TREE

The Streets of Strathmore have taken on a marvellous transformation during the past ten days.

The trees that were before, ragged trunks sending out bare branches are now beautiful pictures in their fresh, abundance of luscious leaves.

It is expected a large crew of men will be working on the project in the very near future. The entire roadway is being widened to the required 99 ft. Fences, telephone and light poles must all be moved back beyond this limit.

Land owners all along the highway are being reimbursed for their acreage, the average price being about $125 per acre. Poles and fences are moved at the cost of the government. The farmers will remove and rebuild their fences for which they will be paid by the government.

This wider road affords better drainage, largely prevents snow drifts, and tends towards greater car accidents.

EMPIRE DAY - MAY 24th Full Day of Sport

May 24th is Empire Day and is a Public Holiday.

In Strathmore a Softball Tournament, Golf Tournament and Hockey Club Dance will provide a full day's sport.

FESTIVAL PROGRAMME ANNIVERSARY SERVICES FRIDAY, MAY 31

Stirring, thought-provoking sermons were given by the guest preachers at both morning and evening services in the United Church Sunday last.

Rev. H. E. Ashford took as his text, "There Cometh a Woman of Samaria." From the statement "Sir the water is deep" which the pure and valuable influences are obtained.

Rev. A. Bright of Grace Presbyterian Church held the close interest of a congregation that practically filled the church at the evening service.

Taking as his subject, "Prayer," the speaker divided his subject into three phases—viz—honesty in prayer, sincerity in prayer, and submission in prayer.

Urging the importance of prayer and the untold benefit to be derived from a praying people the minister urged all to make genuine prayer a basis of their life.

Special music was rendered by the Junior Choir in the morning. At the evening service special music was very well rendered by the Senior Choir.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Owens, with fifteen members and two visitors present. Two new members joined at the last meeting bringing the membership up to 23. These new members are Mrs. Way and Mrs. Morton.

The business matters being disposed of satisfactorily, attention was turned to the White Elephant Sale, which was conducted by Mrs. Leonard Hill. The bidding was fast and furious and the miscellaneous articles changed hands amidst much hilarity. The sale netted $41.40.

The district conference is to be held on June 17th at Chazy and all members are asked to have their handiwork exhibits ready by that date. Conventions who have not yet given their papers are requested to bring them to one or other of the next two meetings.

Red Cross material was handed out and although busy with spring tasks in their farm homes, several of the members find time to turn out socks and mitts and sweaters for our boys at the front.

After the meeting adjourned the hostess served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Douglas on May 26th.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Walker, Sr. on Sunday evening, May 12th. Mrs. Walker has been in failing health for the past year and was taken to the Holy Cross Hospital two weeks ago when her condition became worse.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray, also Mrs. Jon Murray and little Jacquelin in Ottawa, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Farr over the week end.

There's Only One Master-Key to the Major Market!

It's the Weekly Newspapers in the towns and villages of Canada — the only publications whose complete contents are absorbed with instinctive, intimate, friendly confidence and understanding by the people who make 69% of the nation's retail purchases.

It is that which the Weekly Newspapers and their millions of earnest readers have in common — their purely local interests, their essentially personal relationships and in many respects their actual interdependence in the "home town" scheme of things — that makes the Weeklies such an influence for sales right on "Main Street" where the 69% of the country's retail sales are made.

The Weekly Newspapers bring the advertiser, the dealer and the consumer more closely, more effectively together in the smaller communities, and do it more economically, than any other sales-building medium.

When planning your 1940 advertising budget, be sure to have all the facts about the dominant position of the Weekly Newspapers in Canada's No. 1 major market. Write, now, for precise information.

EDMONTON LETTER

By T. B. Windsor

Edmonton, May 22 — Most people in Edmonton are displaying a lively interest in the demonstrations against German Fifth Column activities made by the Edmonton members of the Canadian Legion and there is considerable support for the stand taken by the veterans at their mass meeting in Memorial Hall, Friday night.

Other organizations are taking up the matter and resolutions are going in to Ottawa from there as well as the veterans pressing for some action that will prevent sabotage and even defeat from within the borders of Canada by secret German agents. Among the additional organizations demonstrating in favor of action by the government was the I. O. D. E.

Over one thousand veterans were assembled in Memorial Hall Friday to demand "immediate action" against subversive German activities and no aroused were the veterans that the meeting on several occasions threatened to get out of control. At one time the veterans stood as one man and shouted "Let's get going on this business now."

A wire was sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King immediately after the meeting urging formation of voluntary home defence force similar to that of the veterans in England. It was made that the city authorities dismiss all aliens on its payroll, and a committee was formed to draw plans for formation of a citizens militia.

Everything was in readiness Saturday to commence work on the sixteen buildings at the Edmonton Airport, which will accommodate the large number of air pilots and ground crews that will train here for the Empire air force. The cost of this undertaking will be $200,000 and involves two large hangars, one as large almost as the Edmonton Arena, these will be 11 other buildings designed to accommodate the 250 officers and men to be trained.

It is likely that later developments may include establishment of a large industrial repair depot and other training facilities, according to informed sources.

The Alberta provincial government has taken another step toward securing its promised provincial bank. According to the last copy of the Canadian Gazette, published in Ottawa, application has been made, or notice given of the application to be made during the present session of parliament.

Nothing has been revealed as to the details of the bank bill which will be introduced to parliament, or whether the charter being applied for will be in any way different to the charters granted to all banks in the dominion. It has been reported that the provincial government wants a bank with a special charter allowing introduction of some Social Credit features that will enable the government to experiment further in its economic theories.

It is thought unlikely that any charter containing special features not included in all other bank charters will be granted, owing to the fact that the dominion cannot afford at this critical time in the history of the empire to jeopardize the general credit of the country by allowing Alberta to experiment dangerously with its economy. There are persistent reports that should the charter for a bank be granted by parliament, Mr. Solon E. Low, defeated provincial treasurer, who is still holding his job despite his defeat at the polls, will be given the post of general manager of the new bank. Mr. Low, himself, has denied this report.

The government has promised to release the McGillivray Commission's report at an early date but so far it has not, despite its importance and great cost to the taxpayers, been given to the public.

Another and vitally important report is being given very serious consideration by the cabinet at present. The Ottawa government tabled the long expected report on Dominion-Provincial Relations in parliament during the week, and this contains considerable food for thought on the part of Premier Abnerhart and his cabinet. The report gives prominence to the refusal of Premier Abnerhart to cooperate in its work when it held sittings in Edmonton and points out how he even refused to allow civil servants to furnish information that would have guided the commission in arriving at correct decisions.

CALL FOR TENDERS

ON HIGHWAY WORK

Calling first for tenders on sections of the Jasper highway, the provincial government is preparing to have this road in the best shape possible for the expected rush of motor tourists this season.

Weather conditions delayed highway work longer than usual this season but during the next few weeks, crews will be active in various parts of the province.

In loving memory of William Wilkinson, who passed away, May 24th, 1934.

"Oh times when alone at night,

When sleep forsakes our eyes,

Our memory wanders to a lonely grave,

Where our dear husband and father lies.

At a thousand turns we have missed

you

And miss you every day.

For life to us is not the same

Since God called you away."

Sadly missed by his Wife and Family.
